Dear Colleague,

Response to Ofgem's Decision on the Independent Gas Transporters Relative Price Control review

We welcome Ofgem's decision to proceed with Option 2b, confirming its minded-to position, and think that strikes the right balance.

We also welcome the decision to phase in enhanced, but proportionate, reporting on a voluntary basis first. That reflects the concerns IGTs raised about proportionality, particularly for smaller operators. Encouragingly, Ofgem has continued to work directly with IGTs on developing those templates, and that ongoing engagement should help the reporting framework land well when it goes live.

We'll continue to work with Ofgem through the statutory licence consultation and on the reporting templates to help make sure the framework delivers for the sector from the outset.

Yours sincerely,

Nicola Pitts
