Our Ref: MPC No P162

Dear Colleague,

GB Consultation for Balancing and Settlement Code (BSC) Modification Proposal P162
“Changes to the definition of Imports and Exports”.

On 5 December 2003, Ofgem wrote to Nicholas Durlacher, BSC Panel Chairman, and Charles Davies, Connection and Use of System Code (CUSC) Panel Chairman, describing the procedure that Ofgem would follow when consulting on a Great Britain (GB) wide basis for proposed changes under consideration in the BSC and the CUSC. Ofgem considers that it is generally appropriate to consult on BSC and CUSC change proposals on a GB wide basis following the Second Reading of the Energy Bill which introduces the British Electricity Transmission and Trading Arrangements (BETTA). A copy of this letter can be found on Ofgem’s website at the following address:

<http://www.ofgem.gov.uk>

The Energy Bill received its second reading on 11 December 2003.¹ Ofgem considers that it is appropriate to invite responses on any additional implications that Proposed Modification P162 may have, were it to be applied on a GB wide basis, as opposed to being limited to England and Wales.

On 30 April 2004 Ofgem and the DTI published the near final text of the GB BSC. A copy of this document can be found on Ofgem’s website. Accordingly Ofgem also invites responses as to whether the final text of the GB BSC should incorporate the proposals put forward in BSC Modification Proposal P162.

The draft Modification Report in respect of Modification Proposal P162 and other related documents may be found on ELEXON’s BSC website at the following address:

Responses that identify additional implications for GB should be sent to Steve Mackay at the postal address below or by email to steve.mackay@ofgem.gov.uk. Interested parties are requested to submit responses by 5pm on Tuesday 6 July 2004. Ofgem intends to publish GB wide responses in full on the Ofgem website. If respondents do not wish their response to be published, it should be clearly marked 'Confidential'.
