Dear Colleague

NOTICE OF CONSEQUENTIAL MODIFICATION OF THE STANDARD SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF GAS TRANSPORTER LICENCES UNDER STANDARD SPECIAL CONDITION A2

In August 2005 Ofgem began a review of the standard conditions of the gas and electricity supply licences as part of its drive towards better regulation. The purpose of the review is to ensure that these licence conditions are simple, enforceable and remain necessary now that competition is firmly established in the retail energy markets.

This notice sets out a number of consequential changes to the standard special conditions of the Gas Transporter licence as a result of the review of the standard conditions of the Gas Supply licence. Ofgem consulted on these proposed changes in an open letter "Supply Licence Review: Consequential modification to special standard condition A11 (Network Code and Uniform Network Code) of the NTS and DN licences and standard condition 9 (Network Code) of the Gas Transporters Licence"¹

For the avoidance of doubt, the proposed licence modifications do not change the substantive provisions of the Standard Special Conditions of the NTS licence and DN licences.

Only those licensees who are "relevant licence holders" under paragraph 1 of Standard Special Condition A2 of the NTS licence and DN licences may register their formal objection to any proposed modification; although any person may make representations.

It is our intention to publish our final proposals for the Supply Licence Review shortly.

Responses to this consultation letter will be placed on the Ofgem website unless they are marked as confidential.
