Question:	Can you provide further information on the support proposed for the proposed Smart Grid Development Centre?

Answer:	The establishment of the Smart Grid Development Centre (SGDC) at the University of Manchester will provide an opportunity for cross-fertilisation between the Project and the academics and research students attached to the SGDC. The Project will support the SGDC by providing speakers to the events and conferences organised by it thus forming another channel to the wider smart grid stakeholder community.
