Dear Lynda,

Response to Ofgem's proposal to revise the Typical Domestic Consumption Values for gas and electricity

Citizens Advice welcomes the opportunity to respond to Ofgem's proposal to revise the Typical Domestic Consumption Values for gas and electricity. Our response is not confidential and can be published on your website.

We agree with Ofgem that the Typical Domestic Consumption Values (TDCVs) provide representative domestic consumption values to enable consumers to have access to information regarding typical consumption and to have a uniform basis for comparing the price of tariffs.

In terms of updating the TDCVs, we agree that Ofgem should proceed with the revised figures set out in the proposal. The timescale for implementation for use of these new values and to ensure a coordinated approach seems sensible.

Yours faithfully,

Jenni Lucas-Williams
