Dear Mr Self,

I am very concerned about proposals that may have a significant impact on the income of my 250 kw solar array. It is less than 2 years since I invested £350,000 (mainly borrowed) on this renewable technology. The investment was made with the backing of government policy that strongly encouraged my wife and I to spend our money. Now it seems that our income may be reduced to the point that we will be unable to repay our loan. This would obviously be a catastrophe for us and I therefor urge you to consider that any proposed changes to the Triad benefit be included as part of the wider 'Targeted charging review'. This will allow for a comprehensive and full assessment of any changes. Removing Triad benefit without this significant code review risks making a significant change in the industry without fully understanding the costs and benefits involved.

Many small businesses like my own could be adversely affected if a cautious approach is not taken.

Kind regards,
