

To: All holders of a gas supply licence (“licensees”) who are relevant licence holders for the purposes of section 23(10) of the Gas Act 1986

MODIFICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 23 OF THE GAS ACT 1986 OF THE STANDARD CONDITIONS OF THE GAS SUPPLY LICENCES GRANTED OR TREATED AS GRANTED UNDER SECTION 7A(1) OF THE GAS ACT 1986

NOTICE OF REASONS FOR THE DECISION TO MODIFY THE STANDARD CONDITIONS OF THE GAS SUPPLY LICENCE UNDER SECTION 38A OF THE GAS ACT 1986

WHEREAS

1. Each of the companies to whom this document is addressed has a gas supply licence which has been granted or treated as granted under section 7A(1) of the Gas Act 1986 (“the Act”).
2. In accordance with section 23(2), (3) and (4) of the Act the Gas and Electricity Markets Authority (“the Authority”)¹ gave notice on 22 June 2017 (“the Notice”) that we propose to modify the following standard conditions:
 - Standard condition 7B (Customer Objective and Standards of Conduct for non-domestic supply activities);
 - Standard condition 25C (Customer Objective and Standards of Conduct for supply activities);
 - Standard condition 5 (Provision of Information to Authority and data retention);
 - Standard condition 10 (Restriction or revocation of licence);
 - Standard condition 12A (Matters relating to Theft of Gas);
 - Standard condition 14A (Customer Transfer); and
 - Standard condition 25B (Interoperability of Advanced Domestic Meters).
3. Under the Notice, we also proposed to add two new standard conditions to all gas supply licences. These two new standards conditions replace standard conditions 25C and 7B mentioned above:
 - Standard condition 0 (Treating Domestic Customers Fairly); and
 - Standard condition 0A (Treating Microbusiness Consumers Fairly).
4. In the Notice we stated that any representations to the modification proposal must be made on or before 24 July 2017.
5. A copy of the Notice was sent to the Secretary of State in accordance with section 23(4)(b) of the Act, and we have not received a direction that the change should not be made.
6. We received 15 responses to the Notice, which we considered carefully. We have placed all non-confidential responses on our website. Our response to these comments is set out in the accompanying letter. This letter is available online at: <https://www.ofgem.gov.uk/publications-and-updates/final-decision-standards-conduct-suppliers-retail-energy-market>
7. The Authority has carefully considered the representations made and has decided that it is not necessary to make any alterations to the modifications set out in the Notice published on 22 June 2017. Therefore the Authority has decided to proceed with the modification proposed in the Notice.

¹ The terms “the Authority”, “we” and “us” are used interchangeably in this document.

8. In accordance with section 38A of the Act, the reasons for making the licence modification are to implement the policy stated in the documents referred to below. The effects of this modification are also described in the documents referred to below:
 - Final Decision – Standards of Conduct for suppliers in the retail energy market, 14 August 2017;
 - Statutory Consultation – Standards of Conduct for suppliers in the retail energy market, 22 June 2017; and
 - Standards of Conduct for suppliers in the retail energy market, 30 January 2017.
9. In summary, this modification is being made for a number of reasons. Firstly, we are replacing the existing domestic and non-domestic Standards of Conduct (standard condition 25C and 7B respectively) with two new standard conditions (standard condition 0 and 0A respectively) so that these principles-based obligations are at the front of the gas supply licence. This will have the effect of making the Standards of Conduct more prominent and easier for stakeholders to access.
10. We are also amending the “Fairness Test” and removing the “all reasonable steps” compliance threshold within the domestic and non-domestic Standards of Conduct. The reason we are making these changes is because we want to ensure supplier conduct leads to improved experiences for consumers, thereby boosting trust and engagement levels in the retail market. To drive the achievement of this policy intent, we consider fair customer treatment should be assessed against the outcomes experienced by customers, and not the impact on suppliers or their attempts to secure compliance.
11. For the domestic Standards of Conduct only, we are also adding broad principles to this standard condition that require suppliers to enable domestic customers to make informed choices and to seek to identify domestic customers in vulnerable situations and respond to their needs.
12. The reason for introducing the broad “informed choices” principle is to:
 - provide an unambiguous signpost of our policy objective that consumers are able to make informed choices;
 - emphasise our expectation that suppliers should proactively seek to understand the information consumers need, and then act on these insights; and
 - provide effective, future-proof protection that helps ensure consumers can make an informed choice about a range of products, services or information relevant to their gas supply.
13. The effect of the broad informed choices principle is to require suppliers to ensure the information they provide domestic customers is sufficient, in terms of both quality and quantity, to enable a domestic customer to make informed choices about a wide range of factors related to their gas supply.
14. The reason for introducing the broad vulnerability principle is to make it clear that suppliers have a special responsibility to treat vulnerable customers fairly. Its effect is to place an obligation on suppliers to seek to identify domestic customers in vulnerable situations in an appropriate and effective manner. The principle also requires suppliers to respond to these domestic customers in a way that takes into account their vulnerability.
15. In addition to the aforementioned modifications, we will also be:
 - Amending the broad principle currently in standard condition 25C.4(b)(iv) and 7B.4(b)(iv), which is a consequential change as a result of the changes to the Fairness Test. This amendment makes it clear that unfair terms are still prohibited under the domestic and non-domestic Standards of Conduct.

- Removing from the domestic and non-domestic Standards of Conduct the requirement for licensees to publish a “treating customers fairly” (TCF) statement. The reason we are proposing to remove this requirement is because customer interest in, and the effectiveness of, the TCF statement is low. The effect of this change is that licensees will no longer be required to prepare these statements and make them available to customers.

16. Taken together, the modifications to the Standards of Conduct will have the effect of placing a greater onus on suppliers to treat customers fairly and strengthen our ability to take swift action, including compliance action, where customers need protection from harm. The changes will also better enable us to rely less on prescriptive rules, thereby freeing up more space for suppliers to innovate and compete for customers.
17. The other licence modifications we are making relate to our information gathering powers. We are amending standard condition 5 because we want to ensure we can continue to monitor the market effectively as we move to a greater reliance on principles-based obligations that allow suppliers to comply in a variety of different, innovative ways. The effect of this amendment is to allow us to require the production of information for the purpose of our market monitoring function pursuant to section 34 of the Gas Act 1986.
18. As a consequence of the modifications to standard condition 5, we are also removing a number of information gathering provisions within standard conditions 10, 12A, 14A, and 25B. The reason we are making these amendments is because these provisions will duplicate the information gathering powers we will have under a modified standard condition 5. The intended effect of removing these other information gathering provisions is that this will make the gas supply licence shorter and simpler. These consequential modifications are not intended to change the effect that these existing reporting obligations have had on licensees.
19. Where an application for permission to appeal our decision is made to the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) under section 23B of the Act, Rule 5.7 of the CMA’s Energy Licence Modification Appeals Rules² requires that the appellant must send to any relevant licence holders who are not parties to the appeal a non-confidential notice setting out the matters required in Rule 5.2. The attached Schedule 2 provides a list of the relevant licence holders in relation to this modification. Section 23(10) of the Act sets out the meaning of “relevant licence holder”.

NOW THEREFORE

In accordance with the powers contained in section 23(1)(b) of the Act, we hereby modify the standard licence conditions for all gas supply licences in the manner specified in the attached Schedule 1. This decision will take effect from 10 October 2017, which is at least 56 days from the publication of this notice.

This document is notice of the reasons for the decision to modify the gas supply licences as required by section 38A of the Act.

² The rules were published by the Competition Commission in September 2012. On 1 April 2014, the Competition Commission was abolished and its functions transferred to the CMA.
