

Dear Sirs,

I am writing to make a complaint against Viking Energy Windfarm in Shetland. This windfarm is much too big for our islands, it is going to lead to the destruction of our hills and precious peat lands, also the damage to wildlife. In the community I live in it does not have community support, mostly the people who support it stand to make a profit from their land being used. I speak for my family, my wider family, friends and neighbours who may not write a response. We rely heavily on tourism here which has been devastated this year by the pandemic, the tourists will come back to see our beautiful unspoilt islands, but they will not be coming when all they can see for miles around, are gigantic windmills, yes there will be jobs on the windfarm but we would much prefer to have our unspoilt islands and tourism. I am not against wind energy but the scale of this is just much too large for Shetland.

Yours
