

Hello again at Ofgem,

Having kept a careful watch, I notice that the entire array of giant, parasitic Bird-mincers has been flat-lining for almost a whole month now, unable to deliver much more than 2-4% to the National Grid. In which case we consumers are effectively forking out for two energy systems running in parallel.

It also demonstrates perfectly why a new observational analysis using data from 10 European Union countries, published in May 2018, affirms the devastating conclusion that wind power installation "Amplifies the growth of fossil fuels", and "Preserves Fossil Fuel Dependency" because for every 1% increase in the installed capacity of wind power, a quarter as much again is permanently required as back up.

The pathetic performance completely negates the case for spending a staggering £600,000,000 on a Shetland Transmission link, for one, single, industrial wind factory, which will destroy the Shetland landscape and precious Bird life for years to come.

I also do NOT want to spend any more hard-earned cash, or play any part in the "Greatest Fraud of All Time". Please see below.

<https://stopthesethings.com/2020/05/09/born-naked-planet-of-the-humans-exposes-renewable-energy-as-the-greatest-fraud-of-all-time/>

Please also note the above attachment indicating what Scottish residents really do think. Please acknowledge receipt and add these observations to my previous submission of 24/4/20

Many thanks,